

Those who said “All of the time” or “Most of the time” to smoking the following kinds of tobacco.

The most popularly smoked tobacco (47.3%) was Virginias mixed with burley, Perique and/or Kentucky. Close to the mixed Virginia was English/Latakia blends at 44%. About a third of respondents said they regularly smoke straight Virginias. About one in five smoke Oriental, Balkan, Burley based or Aromatic tobaccos. Less than 10% smoked other kinds of tobacco.

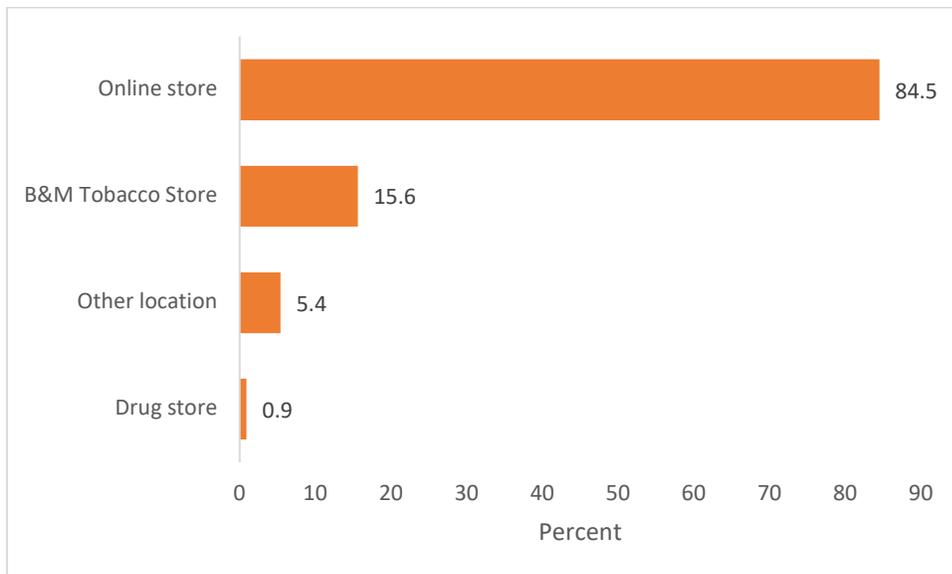

Those who said “All of the time” or “Most of the time” to smoking the following cuts of tobacco.

Over half of the respondents reported smoking ribbon or flake cuts. About one in five smoke coins or curly cut and about one in ten smoke plug. Rope was the least smoked cut of tobacco

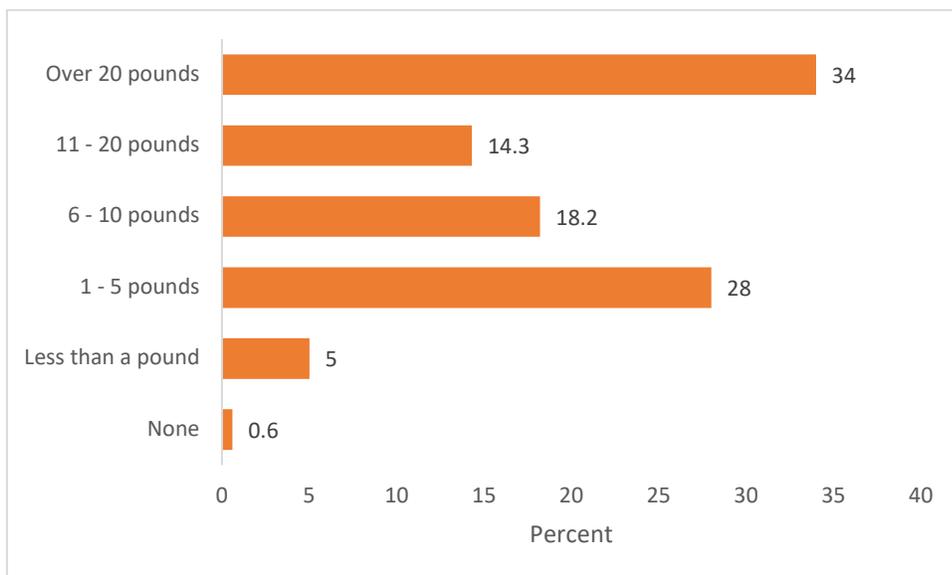

Those who said “All of the time” or “Most of the time” to where tobacco is purchased.

Overwhelmingly, respondents buy their tobacco online. Brick and mortar tobacco shops were second with about 1 in six purchasing tobacco in this location. Only one percent purchased drug store tobaccos.

How much tobacco is cellared?

Almost everyone stores away some tobacco. Fifty percent of respondents have 6-10 pounds or more and 50% have 6-10 pounds or less. The middle 50% of respondents have between 1 – 5 pounds and over 20 pounds, with a third having over 20 pounds.

What other forms of tobacco or smoking do we do?

Over a quarter of the respondents smoke cigars in addition to their pipes. Just over 10% also smoke cigarettes. Snuff is used by 7.3% of respondents while 4.9% vape.

